New Year

resolution

Editor's Note

Happy New Year! I hope you all had a lovely Christmas. Last year was one that most people want to forget: many US citizens were angry about their new president, Britain voted to leave the European Union, bombs rained on citizens in Syria, many famous people died including Carrie Fisher who played Princess Leia in Star Wars, etc. But like her character said in the recent Star Wars film, there is hope and we should all be optimistic about 2017. Why not start looking after the environment by following the 3Rs (see G06-07). Another bright point is we can now go to Ocean Park by MTR! Turn to G03 to learn more.

HAPPY New Year, dear readers! With 2017 comes a New Year resolution! This year, all members of the Goodies Family are determined to protect Earth by adopting the 3Rs — reduce, reuse and recycle. It is crucial and urgent; that is why actor Leonardo DiCaprio (里安納度) and US President Barack Obama (奧巴馬) look so worried. Find out what you can do!

Climate change documentary

BEFORE THE FLOOD

Go to G06-07 to find out why we must practise the 3Rs.

LEONARDO DiCaprio has been concerned about the environment since he was very young. Last year, he worked with the National Geographic Channel (國家地理頻道) to produce Before the Flood, a documentary about climate change.

US President Barack Obama was one of the people he interviewed. You can watch the documentary on YouTube.

Yes, less rubbish will help Earth a lot!

3R: reduce, reuse and recycle

WE have heard so much about climate change, global warming, greenhouse gases, carbon footprints and so on. We may not fully understand what they mean, but we can still do our bit to save the world. By putting into practice the 3Rs, we can save energy and most importantly, we can reduce waste and help relieve an overwhelmed Earth.

What you can do

Reduce: think twice or even thrice whenever you buy things. Use fewer plastic products such as bags, bottles and even capsule toys.

Reuse: Donate your used items to charities. Many needy children will be happy to receive your old clothes and toys.

Recycle: If you are unable to reduce or reuse, put your unwanted items into a recycling bin. There should be one near where you live.

3R in Peppa Pig

Peppa thinks the 3Rs are important as well. Watch the five-minute episode to find out why.
